As with other Christian denominations, the PCUSA has seen considerable decline in both its number of active members and the number of member congregations.

Respondents were asked, regardless of their faith, about “America’s foundation for determining right and wrong.” They were given three options: the Bible, what respondents feel in their hearts, or majority rule.

The largest proportion — 42% — selected what people feel in their heart, compared to 29% who said majority rule, and an additional 29% who chose the Bible.

The Satanic Temple was among the groups present at the event, and its activists — wearing demonic masks and robes — charged passersby $10 for "unbaptisms" in which participants renounce "superstitions that may have been imposed upon them without their consent as a child."

People received inverted cross symbols on their foreheads and recited "Hail Satan!" as part of the unbaptisms.

The so-called unbaptized were also given certificates stating, "All bonds of servitude have been broken.

Queering the church can also take the form of a drag performance in the middle of Sunday morning service. The presence of the performer is intended to complicate the expectations of who can or should lead a worship service and who is given an opportunity to speak in church. The appearance of Isaac Simmons (the name of the man who plays “Ms. Penny Cost”) at Allendale United Methodist Church, Saint Petersburg, Florida, said as much in his message:

“We are here to learn and to grow and to deconstruct and to reimagine what church can be, who church can be for, and how church can feel together. It can be a place unafraid to denounce queerphobia, a place unafraid to name the sin of racism and to call for the end of white supremacy. A place where all have equal and equitable access, not just to the pulpit itself, to the sanctuary, but to God themselves—and all that it represents within the community.”

“We have a culture now in which homosexual orientation is viewed in a similar way to being left-handed. It is simply seen as a given.”

“The debates around human sexuality in the life of the Church have not been caused by a desire on the part of some Christians to be unfaithful to the teachings of Scripture, though all too often they can be portrayed in this way.

The debates are created by a fundamental shift in perspective of the wider culture, and an increase in knowledge about human sexuality and the human condition that has happened over several generations. This increase in knowledge and understanding leads us to ask whether it is possible to adjust and revise the traditional teaching of the Church to accommodate these new and well-established truths, in order that the Church may offer a better witness to the love of God in Christ.”

- Why would a loving God condemn me for something I cannot help?
 Am I born gay? Or is it a choice?
- We can all stay in the same denomination – just allow each individual church to make its own choice on the LGBT question

LDS Church 11/15/22 - The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints said on Tuesday that it endorsed the pending Respect for Marriage Act, a bill that would protect and recognize the validity for same-sex marriage.

The church remains firm about its stance on marriage between a man and a woman but extends its support for LGBTQ rights. The church released the following statement:

The doctrine of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints related to marriage between a man and a woman is well known and will remain unchanged.

We are grateful for the continuing efforts of those who work to ensure the Respect for Marriage Act includes appropriate religious freedom protections while respecting the law and preserving the rights of our LGBTQ brothers and sisters.

We believe this approach is the way forward. As we work together to preserve the principles and practices of religious freedom together with the rights of LGBTQ individuals, much can be accomplished to heal relationships and foster greater understanding.

Deconstruction "encourages you to become the arbiter of what is true" and "the master of your faith," said Strachan. It denies the authority of God and his Word and promotes Self to the godlike task of curating your own personal religion

Dr. Owen Strachan, Senior Fellow with FRC's Center for Biblical Worldview.

Deconstruction is a careful and deliberate examination of one's beliefs from the inside. It's about coming to terms with what you believe outside of your inherited beliefs. It's about growing INTO your faith, not out of it.

Sure, there are instances when one's spiritual journey may lead them away from the faith altogether. However, that is certainly not the goal.

Deconstruction is a process of growth and maturation.

It is not necessary to throw the baby out with the bathwater as they say.

John Williamson

“When an evil spirit comes out of a man, it goes through arid places seeking rest and does not find it.

Then it says, ‘I will return to the house I left.’
When it arrives, it finds the house unoccupied, swept clean and put in order.

Then it goes and takes with it seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there.

And the final condition of that man is worse than the first.
That is how it will be with this wicked generation.”

Progressive Christianity

A different Jesus, a different spirit, a different gospel

II Corinthians 11:1-4

Galatians 1:6-9

...progressive Christianity, a version of Christianity that sells itself as a valid option for Christians that on the surface looks a lot like the Christian worldview and may seem in the eyes of many people to be more acceptable, more likable, a really more palatable version of the faith.

progressive Christians believe that Jesus isn't so much the divine Son of God, but rather just a moral example for us to follow.

Jesus is more of a big brother that sets a pattern that we walk in his footsteps.

the highest goal of the Christian life for progressive Christianity is that you just have to be a good person.

...if you think you can be a good person, you must have a very low view of sin, It's this idea that people aren't really that fallen and they're not really that bad – a downplaying of the word sin; there's certainly no interest in talking about the wrath of God on sin. God is not portrayed as at all disturbed by or upset with sin.

The Core Values of Progressive Christianity

By calling ourselves progressive Christians, we mean that we are Christians who...

1. Believe that following the way and teachings of Jesus can lead to experiencing sacredness, wholeness, and unity of all life, even as we recognize that the Spirit moves in beneficial ways in many faith traditions.
2. Seek community that is inclusive of all people, honoring differences in theological perspective, age, race, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, class, or ability.
3. Strive for peace and justice among all people, knowing that behaving with compassion and selfless love towards one another is the fullest expression of what we believe
4. Embrace the insights of contemporary science and strive to protect the Earth and ensure its integrity and sustainability.
5. Commit to a path of life-long learning, believing there is more value in questioning than in absolutes.

Alisa Childers – Christian apologist/ writer/ teacher

5 Counterfeit Truths of Progressive Christianity

- 1. You Are Perfect Just as You Are – no original sin, but original goodness
- 2. Jesus Didn't Need to Die on the Cross – if #1 is true, then...no substitutionary atonement necessary
- 3. The Resurrection Doesn't Have to Be Historical to Be Meaningful – spiritual only – just symbolic
- 4. God Isn't That Concerned about Who We Sleep with – as long as it is 'love'
- 5. The Bible is an Ancient Travel Journal – certainly NOT the eternal, inerrant Word of God

John Dunn, street preacher, quoted Scripture to 2 lesbians:

1 Corinthians 6:9 – homosexuals will not inherit the kingdom of God

“We must act now – on a bipartisan, bicameral basis – to combat bigoted extremism and uphold the inviolability of same-sex and interracial marriages. Once signed into law, the Respect for Marriage Act will help prevent right-wing extremists from upending the lives of loving couples, traumatizing kids across the country and turning back the clock on hard-work progress.

This legislation takes several steps to uphold marriage equality under federal law. First, it tears the bigoted, unconstitutional Defense of Marriage Act off the books for good.”
