'The generally joyous character of this feast,' says Olshausen, 'broke out on this day into loud jubilation, particularly at the solemn moment when the priest, as was done on every day of this festival, brought forth, in golden vessels, water from the stream of Siloah (Siloam), which flowed under the temple-mountain, and solemnly poured it upon the altar.

Then the words of Isaiah 12:3 were sung,

"With joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of Salvation"
(Hebrew: Yeshua)

By this he meant the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were later to receive. Up to that time the Spirit had not been given, since Jesus had not yet been glorified.

*But I tell you the truth: It is for your good that I am going away.
Unless I go away, the Counselor will not come to you;
but if I go, I will send him to you.      John 16:7*
